Made to be used

The ambition behind the Baltimore collection was clear from the beginning: to create a series of bags and everyday essentials that people genuinely want to use, across roles, industries and occasions.

To achieve this, we focused on timeless design, a restrained colour palette and durable material choices. By avoiding seasonal expressions and short-lived trends, the collection was built to remain relevant over time, extending product life through continued use.

Longevity is a central principle. When products are designed to be kept and used repeatedly, their overall impact is reduced.

As the collection has evolved, recycled materials have been incorporated wherever possible without compromising performance or aesthetic integrity. Existing models are continuously reviewed and updated to include recycled alternatives as part of our ongoing material development.

Baltimore is not defined by one material or claim but by a consistent effort to balance design, durability, and responsible progress.

The Baltimore DNA

Soft structure. Refined surface. Built to last.

The Baltimore collection is defined by its matte PU surface, a material chosen for its refined appearance, durability, and everyday practicality.

The smooth, understated finish creates a calm and contemporary expression, while the structured base ensures the products maintain their shape over time.

Designed to feel soft to the touch yet resilient in use, matte PU allows Baltimore to balance elegance with functionality across bags, accessories and tech.

Because the smallest detail carries the greatest responsibility.

In a bag, the zipper is not a detail. It is the function.

If a zipper fails, the product often becomes unusable regardless of how well it is designed otherwise. For that reason, Baltimore uses SAB resin zippers selected for durability, smooth performance, and long-term reliability.

The resin construction ensures lightweight strength and consistent operation, while the matte finish integrates seamlessly into the collection’s clean aesthetic.

Colour without noise

The colours shown represent our official Baltimore colour references. While we work carefully to match these tones as closely as possible, slight variations may occur due to the use of different materials, textures and production Techniques across the collection.

These natural differences are a result of material characteristics and do not affect the overall visual coherence of the collection.

Black

The foundation. Clean, architectural and universally relevant. Black brings sharpness and authority to the collection.

PMS Black 6 C / 19-0303 TPG

Green

Inspired by nature and movement, our green adds depth without becoming seasonal. It introduces character while maintaining restraint.

PMS 418 C / 19-0414 TPG

Navy

A softer alternative to black, navy offers professionalism with warmth. It bridges corporate and casual environments effortlessly.

Greige

Balanced between grey and beige, greige reflects the Scandinavian approach to neutrality. Calm, modern and highly versatile across materials.

Quiet Branding.
Built for presence, not noise.

In a landscape filled with loud logos and short-term campaigns, Baltimore offers an alternative. Quiet branding is about longevity over volume, products that carry a brand subtly, confidently and consistently throughout everyday life.

Baltimore's clean silhouettes, restrained colour system and matte material platform are intentionally designed to support discreet logo applications. Debossing, tone-on-tone print, subtle embroidery and minimal placements allow the brand to integrate rather than dominate.

The result is merchandise people continue to use, not because it promotes a company, but because it fits naturally into their daily routine.
